01 Welcome to IWS

Hi [Worker first name],

Welcome to Interactive Workforce Solutions. You are joining a team that places skilled, caring support workers with disability and community care providers across [service region, e.g. Sydney's Hills District and surrounds]. The people you support are at the centre of everything we do, and so are you. We want you to feel prepared, safe and backed up on every shift.

This pack explains how we work, what we expect, and what you can expect from us. Please read it all, keep it handy, and sign the acknowledgement on the last page.

If anything is unclear, call us. No question is too small.

Michael Sibanda
Director, Interactive Workforce Solutions

Our promise to you

Clear information before every placement: site, contact, participant needs.

Real support on shift: an on-call person you can reach whenever you are working.

Paid correctly and on time, every time.

A safe workplace. You will never be asked to do work you are not trained or cleared for.

02 About IWS

What we do

IWS supplies casual support workers and independent contractors to registered NDIS providers and other care organisations (our customers). You will usually work at a customer's site, such as a supported independent living house, a day program or in the community, following that customer's support plans and site rules.

Our values

Value	What it looks like on shift
Dignity first	The person you support makes the choices about their own life. You support, you do not take over.
Safe every time	If something is unsafe, you stop, make the person safe and speak up. We will back you.
Reliable	You turn up on time, clock in, and finish the shift you accepted. If you can't, you tell us early.

Value	What it looks like on shift
Honest	You record what actually happened, including mistakes. Honest notes protect everyone.
Learning	Ask questions, do the training, and tell us what would help you do the job better.

03 Your engagement: casual employee or contractor

IWS engages people in one of two ways. Your offer letter or agreement says which applies to you. The rules are different, so read the column that matches your engagement.

Topic	Casual employee	ABN contractor
Agreement	Casual employment contract	Independent contractor agreement
Pay rates	SCHADS Award (Social, Community, Home Care and Disability Services Industry Award 2010), at your classification level, plus penalty rates and allowances	Agreed rate in your contractor agreement. You invoice IWS.
Tax	IWS withholds tax (PAYG). Give us a TFN declaration.	You manage your own tax. IWS does not withhold unless you have not quoted an ABN.
GST	Not applicable	Add GST only if you are registered for GST. Tell us your GST status.
Superannuation	IWS pays 12% super into your fund. Since 1 July 2026, super is paid with each pay run (Payday Super).	Usually your own responsibility. Contractors paid mainly for their labour may still be owed super by law, so IWS assesses this for each contractor.
Insurance	Covered by IWS workers compensation insurance	You must hold your own public liability and personal accident (income protection) cover and give us certificates.
Timesheets	Clock in and out in Connecteam	Clock in and out in Connecteam, then invoice from the approved hours
Turning down shifts	You may decline shifts that are offered	You may decline shifts that are offered

Not sure which you are?

Ask us before your first shift. Being treated as the wrong type of worker can affect your pay, super, tax and insurance. NSW law can treat some contractors as workers for workers compensation, so we check each arrangement.

04 Before your first shift

You cannot be rostered until every item below is uploaded to Connecteam and checked by IWS. We record expiry dates and remind you before anything runs out.

Everyone

- ☐ NDIS Worker Screening Check cleared, and linked to IWS as an employer
- ☐ NDIS Worker Orientation Module "Quality, Safety and You" completed (certificate)
- ☐ Signed NDIS Code of Conduct acknowledgement
- ☐ Current First Aid (HLTAID011) and CPR (CPR refreshed every 12 months)
- ☐ Infection prevention and control training, and any vaccinations a customer requires
- ☐ Manual handling training
- ☐ Signed confidentiality and privacy agreement
- ☐ Working With Children Check, if you may support anyone under 18
- ☐ Driver licence, registration and comprehensive insurance, if you will drive participants
- ☐ Proof of your right to work in Australia
- ☐ Emergency contact details

Casual employees also need

- ☐ Signed employment contract
- ☐ Tax file number declaration
- ☐ Superannuation choice form (or we pay into our default fund)
- ☐ Bank details

Contractors also need

- ☐ Signed contractor agreement
- ☐ Active ABN (we check it on ABN Lookup)
- ☐ Certificate of currency: public liability insurance
- ☐ Certificate of currency: personal accident or income protection cover
- ☐ GST registration status
- ☐ Bank details for invoice payments

Some sites need extra training

Medication support, mealtime and swallowing (dysphagia) support, epilepsy, PEG feeding and positive behaviour support are common examples. We will only place you where your training matches the people you support.

05 Connecteam: your work app

IWS uses Connecteam for rosters, clocking in and out, documents and messages. Download it from the App Store or Google Play and log in with the invite we send you.

1. Accept your invite and complete the onboarding pack: upload every document on the checklist.
2. Check your shifts. Accept or decline offered shifts as soon as you can. Accepted shifts appear in your schedule.
3. Clock in when you arrive at the site, not before. Location must be on so your clock-in is matched to the site.
4. Clock out when you finish. Add a short note if the shift ran over or something changed.
5. Read messages and updates. Site changes, policies and reminders are sent through the app.
6. Keep documents current. Upload renewed certificates before they expire, or you can't be rostered.

Why clocking in matters

Your clock-in and clock-out times are your timesheet. They decide your pay, and they are how we bill the customer. Forgotten clock-ins delay pay. If you forget, message IWS the same day.

06 Your first shift at a customer site

The day before

- Check the site address, parking, entry instructions and start time in Connecteam.
- Save the shift lead's number and the IWS on-call number in your phone.
- Plan to arrive 10 minutes early. Bring your ID, phone charger and water.

On arrival: your site induction

The shift lead or house manager will induct you using the IWS Customer Site Induction Checklist. You must not work alone until it is signed off. It covers:

- Meeting the people you support, how each person likes to be greeted and communicates
- Who is in charge, sign-in, keys, door codes and secure areas
- Fire exits, the evacuation plan and each person's evacuation needs
- Where to find support plans, risk assessments, health plans and progress notes
- Site safety: manual handling equipment, PPE, chemicals, working alone

> Read the plans before you support
>
> Read every plan for each person you support before you give that support: support plan, risk assessment, health and mealtime plans, and any behaviour support plan. If you have not been shown a plan, ask for it. If you are still unsure, call IWS.

07 The NDIS Code of Conduct

Every person delivering NDIS supports must follow the NDIS Code of Conduct. Breaches can lead to bans from working in the sector, fines and other penalties. In plain language, you must:

#	The rule	What it means for you
1	Respect people's rights to freedom of expression, self-determination and decision-making	Offer choices, wait for answers, and respect a "no".
2	Respect people's privacy	Knock before entering. Keep personal information private. No photos on your personal phone.
3	Provide supports and services in a safe and competent way, with care and skill	Follow the plans. Only do tasks you are trained and authorised to do.
4	Act with integrity, honesty and transparency	Record what really happened. Never accept money, gifts or loans from participants.
5	Promptly take steps to raise and act on concerns about quality and safety	If something isn't right, tell the shift lead and IWS straight away.
6	Take all reasonable steps to prevent and respond to violence, exploitation, neglect and abuse	Make the person safe, call 000 if needed, then report. Do not stay silent.
7	Take all reasonable steps to prevent and respond to sexual misconduct	Keep professional boundaries at all times. Report any concern immediately.

Professional boundaries

- Do not arrange private work, paid or unpaid, with participants, families or customers. All work goes through IWS.
- Do not connect with participants or families on personal social media.
- Do not post anything about the people you support, sites or customers online.
- Do not bring visitors, children or pets to a shift.
- Do not lend or borrow money, or sell anything to participants.
- No alcohol or drugs before or during a shift. Tell us about any medicine that could affect your work.

08 Working safely

Under the NSW Work Health and Safety Act 2011, IWS and the customer both have a duty to keep you safe, and we work together on it. Your duties are to:

- Take reasonable care of your own health and safety
- Take reasonable care that what you do (or don't do) doesn't harm others
- Follow reasonable safety instructions and site policies

You can stop unsafe work

If a task poses a serious and immediate risk, make the person you support safe, stop the task, and call the shift lead and IWS straight away. You will not be penalised for raising a genuine safety concern.

Risk	What to do
Manual handling	Use only the transfer method and equipment in the person's plan. No unplanned lifting. Ask for help.
Behaviours of concern	Know the person's early warning signs and the strategies in their plan. Know your exit. Step back when unsafe.
Infection control	Wash or sanitise hands before and after support. Use gloves and PPE as shown. Stay home if you are unwell.
Working alone	Keep your phone charged. Follow the site's check-in process. Call on-call if you feel unsafe.
Fatigue	Take your breaks. Tell us if you are too tired to work safely. Don't accept shifts that leave no rest.
Driving	Do a pre-start check, use seatbelts and wheelchair restraints, and never use your phone while driving.
Chemicals	Use only labelled products, as directed. Know where the safety data sheets are kept.

09 Incidents, injuries and concerns

An incident is anything that harmed, or could have harmed, a person: a fall, a medication error, an injury, a behaviour that hurt someone, abuse, neglect, or a near miss.

1. Make everyone safe. Give first aid if needed.
2. Call 000 for any emergency: serious injury, a medical emergency, or a crime in progress.
3. Tell the shift lead immediately.
4. Call IWS on-call immediately. Do not wait until the end of the shift.
5. Write it down the same shift, on the customer's incident form. Write facts only: what you saw, heard and did, with times.
6. Keep it confidential. Only discuss it with the customer, IWS or the authorities.

Serious incidents have legal time limits

Some incidents (for example a death, serious injury, abuse or neglect, unlawful sexual or physical contact, sexual misconduct, or an unauthorised restrictive practice) are reportable incidents. The registered provider must notify the NDIS Commission, usually within 24 hours.

Your job is to tell the shift lead and IWS straight away so this can happen on time.

If you are injured

- Get first aid or medical treatment.
- Tell the shift lead and IWS the same day, even if it seems minor.
- Casual employees: IWS will guide you through a workers compensation claim.
- Contractors: notify your own personal accident insurer, and tell us.

If you can't work a shift

- Tell IWS as early as possible, and at least [X hours] before the shift. Call; don't just message.
- Same-day sickness: call the IWS on-call number, not the customer only.
- Update your availability in Connecteam so we only offer shifts you can do.

11 Privacy, feedback and complaints

Privacy

- Only access information you need for the shift. Never take files, photos or notes away from the site.
- Don't share login details. Lock your phone.
- Talk about participants only with people who need to know, and never in public.

Raising a concern or complaint

We want to hear about anything that worries you: about a site, a customer, a colleague, or IWS itself.

1. Talk to the IWS coordinator or on-call person.
2. If not resolved, email the Director at michael.sibanda@interactivews.com.
3. You can also contact the NDIS Quality and Safeguards Commission on 1800 035 544 or at ndiscommission.gov.au.

You will not be treated unfairly for raising a concern in good faith. For workplace rights, you can also contact the Fair Work Ombudsman on 13 13 94.

Looking after yourself

Support work can be emotionally heavy. After a distressing shift, ask for a debrief. [If IWS offers an Employee Assistance Program, add the provider and number here.]
